“Those who seek shall find.”

The spirit of these words, written by native Athenian Sophocles, lives on at The American College of Greece and in all those who choose to question, to explore, to fully encounter our world.

WHERE WILL YOU SEEK AND WHAT WILL YOU FIND?

CLAIRE FORTINO,
UNIVERSITY OF THE INCARNATE WORD

“THERE’S THIS QUOTE ABOUT TRAVELING THAT SAYS YOU’LL NEVER FEEL COMPLETELY AT HOME AGAIN, BUT THIS IS THE PRICE YOU PAY FOR THE RICHNESS OF LOVING PEOPLE FROM MORE THAN ONE PLACE. THAT’S HOW I FEEL ABOUT ACG.”

GET OUT OF HERE

You heard us. Get out of the States and experience Athens, home of The American College of Greece and birthplace of Western civilization. Walk in the footsteps of great philosophers. Travel to historic European cities. Become a true citizen of the world.

Get the most out of your study abroad experience. ACG is Europe’s oldest and largest U.S. college or university, accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC). And we’re not just a study abroad campus—we’re a full college with 2,800 undergraduate students from 70 countries pursuing 27 different majors.

And get this. Studying abroad at ACG is incredibly affordable—especially if your financial aid package can be transferred—and tuition includes excursions to Greek islands, archaeological dig sites, and other exciting destinations.

BOLDLY BEGIN

Start at the very beginning: of learning, of democracy, of classical thought.

Stand before the Parthenon. Visit Plato’s Academy, the prison where Socrates made his last act of defiance, and the very first Olympic stadium. Athens holds thousands of years of history just waiting for you to explore.

It’s also a base from which to journey to Rome, Istanbul, Cairo, the Greek islands, and other exciting destinations. Wherever you venture, returning to Athens will soon feel like coming home. Past study abroad students often return on a regular basis.

SEEK CULTURE SHOCK

Embrace the feeling of uncertainty—with it comes amazing experiences you’ll never forget.

Jump into campus life by joining a club or meeting new people at a barbecue outside your student residence. Greek culture will become second nature as you slow the pace of life: visit the farmer’s market, relax with friends at a café, or enjoy the social scene at clubs, tavernas, and bars open well into dawn.

The study abroad office is here to help with everything from the visa process to airport pickup. Through the Philoxenia program you can meet a Greek “buddy” student to help you get comfortable on campus. Generosity and kindness toward guests are deeply rooted customs of Greece, and the faculty, staff, and students at ACG become like family.

MAKE ATHENS YOUR CLASSROOM

Thanks to ACG’s status as a degree-granting institution, we’re able to offer you classes from a wide variety of disciplines. Classes at ACG are small (15-20 students), allowing professors to foster thoughtful discussion and out-of-class experiences like trips to museums and projects that let you dig into Greek culture.

EXCURSIONS

Spring and fall semesters include three excursions; summer sessions include one excursion. Recent trips include:

- Nafplion, a seaport town with gorgeous beaches
- Santorini, the most spectacular and most interesting island in the Aegean Sea
- Delphi, an archaeological site and modern town that’s home to the Oracle of Apollo
